

10 + 2

10+2 is a children's animated series from Catalonia (Spain) and directed by Miquel Pujol i Lozano. The show debuted in 1994.

The series takes place in the fictional country of Numberland, centered in a school taught by the teacher Aristotle and his assistant Infinity. The students consist of ten living numbers from zero till nine, each with differing personalities. The characters are mute and only communicate in vocal noises and body language. Throughout the episodes, every night Aristotle would narrate the day's events in flashback, with moments of counting quantities corresponding to the number characters.
