

E-BOLA

Six physicians from Europe, America and Asia are working as researchers on the vaccine to fight the Ebola virus when an epidemic breaks out in their own laboratory. What follows is a race against time to save themselves – and humanity – against one of the most violent and viral illnesses of all time. Shot in Africa, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and USA, this TV movie tells the story of the epidemic that brought Africa to its knees and scared the entire planet. It is dedicated to the true heroes of the pandemic: healthcare workers.
